A note from Pastor Owen...

"Most people hope that when they die, they will face a life after death rather than oblivion. Most hope that death is not the end. But suppose there is nothing beyond the grave...what then? The Christian philosopher, Blaise Pascal, attempted to answer this question with a 'wager' that goes like this...'If you believe in God and there is indeed a God, you win eternal happiness. On the other hand, if you believe in God and he turns out to be a myth, you lose nothing. But if you reject faith in God and God does exist, then you lose everything for all eternity'. He concluded that the only losers in life are those who reject God. Pascal was merely reassuring people who trusted in the Lord that it was a good bet to have a relationship with God through Jesus. We are not merely betting that there is a heaven. We are betting on a God who sent His Son to die for us...to live His life in us...and to transform us in the process. Our trust is in the One who said, 'You believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions. I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am, you may be also.' (John 14:1-6) This is no pipe dream. When a believer in Jesus dies, we rejoice because we KNOW where they are and who they're with!"
