A note from Pastor Owen...

"A recent reading of 1 Corinthians 12 &13 reminded me that " We live to help each other" for we are so wonderfully the members of one Body. I think our greatest difficulty is self-occupation. The key to a victorious Christian walk is self-denial...forgetting ourselves. We must decrease in order " that Christ and others" will increase! Be occupied with Jesus and the souls He came to save. Don't pray too much for yourself. Pray greatly and intently for others. Simply place yourself in Christ's hands in full surrender. He will work in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure. Be committed to the truth that the Holy Spirit of God dwells wonderfully within you and has everything under control. Don't worry about what you are sensing or feeling. Believe that He is working in you. Wait quietly on the Lord! Christ will bring about His purposes for your life at just the right moment. Andrew Murray said it best – " Don't be such an anxious and worrying child with such a kind Father and such a Saviour. Just fold your hands when you sit still and say...What a God...What a love...What a Saviour!". We can all say AMEN to that! Jesus first... others second...you third. That is how our lives are to be lived".
