A note from Pastor Owen...

"One of the healthiest things we can do for our spiritual growth is to take time each morning to read and meditate on a portion of scripture from the Bible. Before we begin to read the passage, it's helpful to say, 'Dear Lord, thank you for your love letter to me. Open my eyes and open my heart as I read your Word.' As you read through the passage of scripture, ask yourself three questions...First, 'What does it say?' (Bible information). Secondly, 'What does it mean?' (life implications for today) and thirdly, 'What does it mean to me?' (personal response and a decision to obey what we have read). Every Christian leader I know and every victorious believer I have ever met has a time cut out of their schedule for daily Bible reading. That must tell us something really important about this spiritual practice. There is really no accurate way of measuring the cumulative effect of a lifetime of Bible reading, but I am convinced that it makes our inner journey a much richer and rewarding one. Don't worry if you have lapses in your reading...just keep on coming back to the scriptures and begin daily reading again. Learn to be a 'self-feeder'...someone who is not dependent on Sunday's sermon or midweek Bible studies to hear the Word of the Lord".
